FORTIETH CONGRESS.

Discontinuation of Freedmen's Bureau—Civil Appropriations—Resolution for a Bill Levying Ten Per Cent. Interest on U. S. Bonds—River and Harbor Improvement.

[By Telegraph to Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, July 29, 1868.

SENATE.

Mr. HOWARD, from the Committee on Military Affairs, reported favorably a bill for the discontinuance of the Freedmen's Bureau. It provides the Commissioner shall withdraw the Bureau from all States entitled to representation on the 1st of January next, or as soon thereafter as may be done without injury of the government; but the educational department of the Bureau, and the collection and payment of money due soldiers and sailors, shall be continued until otherwise ordered by action of Congress. It also provides for the continuance of the office of the present Commissioner, except in case of his resignation or death, when the office is to be filled only by appointment by the President or, nomination by the Secretary of War, with the consent of the Senate.

A joint resolution directing the withholding of money due from the United States to any State in default of payment of principal or interest on its stocks or bonds held by the United States in trust, and the bill for the removal of certain causes from the State and the United States Courts, were discussed without action.

Mr. THAYER, from the Military Committee, reported a bill to regulate the military establishment.

The Senate agreed to hold an Evening Session to consider it.

The Colorado bill came up, but was soon laid aside by a vote of twenty-one to twenty.

The joint resolution relative to States in default was again considered and passed.

The bill extending the time for the completion of the Northern Pacific Railroad was passed as it came from the House.

The civil appropriation bill came up and was amended by increasing the appropriation for the issue of Treasury notes to one million and a half, by adding for facilitating telegraphic communication between the Pacific and Atlantic forty thousand dollars, and by decreasing the amount for the deficiency in the fund for the sick and disabled seamen from $250,000 to $150,000. The appropriation for coast survey on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts was increased to $300,000, and that for the Western coast to $130,000. A number of other amendments were adopted, including the increase of the appropriation for the Custom House at St. Paul, Minn., from $25,000 to $50,000, and allowing $15,000 for the Branch Mint building at Carson City, Nevada.

Without action on the bill, the Senate agreed to go into Executive session.

Mr. FOWLER introduced a bill to provide for the election of certain Territorial officers by the people.

After Executive session, the Senate took a recess.

Evening Session.—Mr. WILSON'S bill for the government of the armies was considered. About a dozen Senators were present. The bill is elaborate, varying little from the previous regulations, except in imposing somewhat stricter penalties for violations of its provisions.

Mr. WILSON offered an amendment, as an additional section, providing for the punishment, by cashiering, for conviction of gambling.

After a long discussion, and the adoption of some unimportant amendments, the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATITES.

A number of bills and joint resolutions were introduced for reference.

To extend to Arkansas the provisions of the Agricultural College bill.

To provide for the employment of a stenographic reporter for the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Missouri.

To establish a new land district in Nebraska.

Mr. PRICE introduced a joint resolution extending the time for the commencement of the Northern Pacific Railroad for two years from the 2d of July 1868, and requiring the building of one hundred miles per year thereafter, and the completion of the line by the 4th of July, 1877. Passed under the operation of the previous question—95 against 32.

Mr. COBB offered a resolution instructing the Ways and Means Committee to report a bill levying a tax of at least ten per cent. on the interest of bonds of the United States, to be assessed and collected annually by the Secretary of the Treasury and such subordinates as may be charged with the duty of paying interest on the bonded indebtedness of the United States.

A motion to table it was rejected—27 against 106.

A motion to refer to Ways and Means Committee was also rejected—61 to 80.

The resolution was passed—92 against 54.

A motion to reconsider was then tabled, making the action final.

Mr. ALLISON offered a resolution of inquiry whether the Secretary of the Treasury furnished the recently published comparative statement concerning the removals of Revenue officials by Commissioner of Revenue and the President, and asking for full information relative thereto, which was adopted.

Mr. STEVENS, of Pa., from the Committee on Appropriations, reported the deficiency bill, which was made the special order for Thursday.

The consideration of the river and harbor bill was resumed.

The amendment appropriating $56,000 for Alton, Illinois, was rejected; $15,000 was allowed for the Tennessee river, from the mouth to Florence, Alabama, and $90,000 from Chattanooga to Decatur; $18,000 of the quarter million for the improvement of the Ohio river was ordered to be applied to experimenting on the value of shifting sluices.

A motion to appropriate $50,000 for the Wabash River was rejected.

The Ouachita river, in Arkansas, the Wabash from its mouth to Lafayette, the White and Black rivers, Arkansas, and the latter to Poplar Bluff, Missouri, were added to the rivers to be surveyed, and the Sciota river, Wisconsin, was substituted for the Menomee, which had been surveyed. Several others were rejected. The harbor of Cape Porpoise, Maine, was ordered to be surveyed.

The bill having been completed by sections,

Mr. ELIOT moved the previous question.

Mr. WASHBURNE, Ill., called for separate votes on the several appropriations.

Those for Wisconsin river and Marquette Harbor were agreed to.

Leave of absence was granted to many Democratic members.

Without action on the bill the House adjourned.

NEW ORLEANS.

Another Party of Alleged Fillibusters Arrested—Meeting of the Louisiana Legislature—The "Test Oath" Required.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW ORLEANS, June 29.—Another squad of supposed fillibusters, numbering about eighty, was captured near Fort Livingston, Louisiana, and brought back to Fort Jackson. The majority were Mexicans, and but few of them appeared to exercise any authority. A small lugger, loaded with provisions, was also captured, but no arms, except a single Colt's revolver. The prisoners assert that they are peaceable citizens intent upon a legitimate object.

The Louisiana Legislature convened today. The Senate was called to order by Lieutenant Governor Dunn. The temporary Secretary was ordered to read General Buchanan's order, promulgating General Grant's order removing Governor Baker and Lieutenant Governor Voorhees and appointing Warmouth and Dunn provisional Governor and Lt. Governor in their stead; also Mr. Warmouth's order convening the Legislature. The roll was called from Gen. Buchanan's order announcing the names of those elected. Twenty-four members answered. The clerk also read Gen. Grant's order to Gen. Buchanan approving the action of the latter in relation to municipal officers, and suggesting that only the oath prescribed by the new Constitution be required of the newly elected officers. Lt. Gov. Dunn announced he was not prepared to comply with Gen. Grant's suggestions, and he would require the test oath to be administered. The Democrats appealed. It was argued the presiding officer had no authority to prescribe any oath whatever, and that the Legislature was convened under the new Constitution and no other oath than the one therein prescribed could be taken. It was moved to refer the question to the Commanding General. The Lieutenant Governor ruled that until the members had been qualified no appeal could be taken or motion offered, and he ordered roll call for members who could do so to come forward and take the test oath as their names were called. The Democratic members entered a protest and refused to take the test oath, several asserting their ability to do so, but denying the right to demand it. Nineteen, a bare quorum, took the test oath after which the constitutional oath was administered. A Committee on Credentials was appointed and several contests for seats referred. Adjourned till to-morrow.

After adjournment a large number of negroes crowded around the presiding officer to offer their congratulations. Four of the Senators are full negroes and several of mixed blood.

Mr. Millard, Republican, entered a protest against the recognition of the authority of General Buchanan to interfere in the organization of the House, and made some remarks concluding as follows: "And when this House is once organized, then I desire to announce to Col. Batchelder, and to General Buchanan, Commanding, and to the United States Army at large, if necessary, that all interference on the part of the army must cease." The proportion of negroes in the House is greater than in the Senate.

The House was called to order by Col. Batchelder, of Gen. Buchanan's Staff. R. H. Isabel, a negro, was elected temporary Chairman. He took the test oath, and announced, in reply to a protest, that no member who could not take the test oath could take his seat. Fifty-three, a quorum, took the required oath, the majority of the Democrats retiring. A Committee on Elections was appointed. Adjourned till to-morrow.

THE SCHUTZENFEST.

Speech of Mr. Judd of the Congressional Committee.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 29, 1868.

After the review of the procession of the Schutzenfest, at Union Square, by Mayor Hoffman, the Congressional Committee and others, the line of march was continued to the foot of Eighth street, whence a flotilla of steamers and barges carried the excursionists to Jones' Wood, where they landed amidst the cheers of the multitude. A salute of twenty-one guns was fired in honor of the occasion. A grand banquet was given in Fest Hall. Gov. Fenton was unable to be present, and the chair was taken by the President of the Schutzenfest. Many toasts were given and speeches made. General Sigel, Hon. N. B. Judd, of Illinois, Lieut. Gov. Woodford, of New York, Mayor Hoffman, Baron Gerett, the North German Ambassador, John Hibe, Swiss Consul General, and others were among the speakers.

The following is the speech of Representative Judd before the Schutzenfest this afternoon:

Mr. President—It is generally believed that an American is always ready to respond to the toast you have assigned me. And why should he not be, seeing every day around him evidence of prosperity and freedom, seeing labor rewarded and industry successful, restrained only by laws for the general welfare, not made in the interest of classes, free to share in all honors civil and political, the only qualifications being the talent and integrity necessary to fill public position. No questions are asked as to the place of birth. I ask again, why should not the possessor of such rights and privileges have his heart filled with thanks and be ready to speak in praise of such a country, with such institutions. The United States, by their laws, invite the people of all lands to share in their benefit, and say to all, there is room enough to spare. Bounteous nature yields golden rewards to the thrifty. The Government tenders to all a home without money, without price, and protects each one in the possession of such homestead. If trained to other industry than the cultivation of the soil, there is work and plenty for all. Ingenuity and industry are sure of their reward. The citizens are the government. They protect themselves. That silent talisman, the ballot-box, rights all wrongs, and administrators of the Government, becoming tyrannical, are hurled from place, and power reverts to the people's will. Revolutions by the ballot occur annually—quiet, peaceable, effectual. No hereditary privileges give to special classes the right to live on the toil of others. Accidents of birth do not create a ruler. The laws and justice smile equally upon the poor man's cottage and the rich man's home. For whatever inequalities of position or fortune may exist in this country, its laws and institutions are not responsible. Our inequalities are the result of brain and industry. They make manhood its own master and master of its situation. Are not these things illustrated in this almost numberless gathering of the masses of freemen on this occasion? Born in foreign lands, you have sought homes in this Republic and here to-day bring back fond remembrances of the land of your birth and the home of your fathers in the land of William Tell. Your organization and the training it gave to every man has enabled the Republic on the other side of the ocean, Switzerland, to resist the encroachment of despotism, while the citizens, trained from childhood to manly sports and the use of arms, aided by her mountain fortresses, are still free. The story of William Tell, so gracefully illustrated in your procession to-day, has been studied by every American child. The struggles against despotism called for such organization in other countries, and the kindred race of freedom-loving Germans adopted it. You have brought it to our shores and we hail its advent as of national importance in training all in the manly arts which prepare men to defend their liberties. Organization is power, and this assemblage is more than a past time. Its purposes, services and effects are good for the Republic. The manners, customs and habits of childhood and youth become almost part of nature. They follow the man to his home in foreign lands, and their proper indulgence is the right of freemen. Becoming a citizen, he mingles with the native-born in the pursuit of business or pleasure, and the manners, habits and customs of each operate upon the other, tending to soften, invigorate, consolidate, and out of all to form a nationality whose perfect development is found in the union of the people of different lands. From this mingling is rapidly being developed on this continent the completest type of the physical man and the best trained intellect: also a government more free and stable than has heretofore been given to man. All this depends upon the citizen himself, and as he exercises his privileges so will it result in the development named or in the degeneracy of the people. I do not overlook the existence in other lands of physical development and intellectual culture in their highest culture; but these belong to privileged classes. In no land but ours are these within the reach of the masses of the people. Believing that this national assemblage has higher and and nobler purposes than mere pastime, and that it was the duty of the government to encourage the cultivation of that which in its hour of trial may be found by freemen familiar with the use of arms, I asked the House of Representatives to accept your invitation. My colleagues and myself are with you on this occasion as the Representatives of a part of the law-making power of this government, the House of Representatives of the United States. Not as foreigners, or foreign born, are you assembled to-day, but as American citizens, engaged in organizing and developing power for future usefulness, and if that social enjoyment which softens the asperities of life's contests is joined with them, instruction which teaches self-reliance and self-defence, so much the better. When foreign countries contribute their aid to make the meeting a success, your government should not fail to be represented. Our militia force is our reliance in times of trouble, and the Constitution guaranties the bearing of arms. Allow me to conclude with the hope that this, the third national gathering of your various associations from all the different parts of this broad land, may tend to harmonize and unite all classes and interests in this our common country, and by manly rivalries learn to value and respect each other.

The proceedings did not terminate until late in the afternoon. Previous to the banquet the Congressional Committee handed to the Committee of Arrangements an order for a fine rifle, and Mayor Hoffman presented gold as prizes. The shooting commences to-morrow.

In regard to militia he advises a thorough reorganization, and no oath to be required but to support the present Constitution of the State. CITY AND SUBURBAN.

Meeting of the Society for the Relief of Disabled Firemen—Election of Trustees and Officers.

The regular annual meeting of the Society for the Relief of Disabled Firemen was held yesterday afternoon at the hall of the Firemen's Association, City Building. There was full attendance. W. M. Gormley, Esq., President, presided. Maj. Joseph Browne, Secretary, read the minutes of the previous meetings, which were approved.

The Chair announced that under the provisions of the Constitution the first thing in order was the election of a Board of Trustees, to consist of two members from each company represented in the Society.

On motion of Mr. R. C. Elliott, the election was proceeded with. The following gentlemen were unanimously chosen to constitute the Board of Trustees to serve the ensuing year.

Eagle—Joseph Browne, John H. Hare.
Allegheny—Edward Gregg, Josiah King.
Vigilant—R. C. Elliott, James Irwin.
Duquesne—John Hamill, J. H. McElroy.
Neptune—W. M. Gormley, F. Kolbecker.
Niagara—Joseph Kaye, Joseph Irwin.

The Trustees effected the following organization for the Society during the present year:

President—W. M. Gormly.
Vice-President—Josiah King.
Treasurer—Edward Gregg.
Secretary—Major Joseph Browne.
Assistant Secretary—R. C. Elliott.

The President elect returned sincere thanks for the honor conferred upon him. He was glad that new interest was manifested in the Association, at the organization of which he was present just thirty years ago to-day.

Mr. James Irvin, from the Committee to revise the Constitution and By-Laws, made a verbal report, suggesting several important alterations and amendments to the original articles, which were calculated to increase and strengthen the organization.

The amendments were unanimously adopted, and on motion of Mr. Gregg, the matter was recommitted to the Committee, with instructions that they report in writing, at the next quarterly meeting, a Constitution under which a charter may be obtained from the Court.

A business communication from B. A. Stoney, agent of the North American Insurance Company, was received and laid on the table.

Mr. King offered a resolution instructing the Committee on Revising the Constitution to report a clause providing for the expulsion of unworthy members who might obtain admission into the Association. Carried.

The same Committee was instructed, on motion of Mr. Irvin, to visit the different fire companies and urge the importance of their members joining the Association, and to impress upon them the fact that the present initiation fee of one dollar will be increased to five dollars three months hence.

Mr. Irvin reported that Dr. T. J. Gallaher, of the Tenth ward, had proffered to the Association his services gratuitously to attend any fireman who may be injured in going to, coming from, or attending a fire.

Mr. Elliot reported a similar generous proposition made by Dr. F. LeMoyne.

The Society accepted the kind offers and unanimously passed a vote of thanks to those public spirited professional gentlemen.

After transaction of other unimportant business, the meeting adjourned.

Now, that the Association is in smooth working order, we most earnestly bespeak for it a hearty coöperation on the part of the business public. Its object is a noble and deserving one and appeals in strong terms to the liberality and charity of our citizens. By the Constitution any person may become a life member by paying the sum of ten dollars, (shortly to be increased to twenty,) with full authority to participate in its proceedings. Doubtless our insurance companies will make liberal subscriptions towards the object, as our firemen receive only thanks for their labor, and if so unfortunate as to receive injury at a fire this Association promises to take the necessary care and make proper provision for their support during the time they may be disabled.

Shoplifters Arrested in Allegheny.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Ewer, of the firm of Ewer & Long, dry goods merchants on Ohio street, near Sandusky, appeared at the Mayor's office and stated that he had reason to suspect a man and woman, who had been in his establishment a short time before, of shoplifting. Officers Bowden and Gabby, having obtained a description of the pair, at once started in pursuit and succeeded in arresting them in the Market House square. A search at the Mayor's office revealed a considerable quantity of dry goods concealed beneath the sack worn by the woman. Mr. Ewer failing to recognize any of his property among the goods, Mr. Samuel Gordon, of Federal street, and Mr. H. M. Dunlap, of Dunlap, Luker & Co., dry goods merchants, on the same street, whose stores it had been ascertained they had entered, were sent for. Mr. Dunlap immediately recognized the goods as part of his property, and the pair finding themselves thus caught, at once confessed the truth, but stoutly denied having taken anything from any of the other establishments. In answer to inquiries they both refused to give their names, but the woman stated that she had arrived that morning by the boat from Cincinnati, and that she was stopping at a house on First street, in the Third ward. Officers were dispatched to search the house, the proprietor of which was absent, and in doing so they unearthed a large quantity of dry goods, fancy trimmings, &c., &c., which evidently had been collecting for a considerable time. The neighbors in the vicinity pronounced the story of the woman in regard to her arrival as false, stating that she had been seen around for more than a week. A hearing will be had in the case this morning, when the matter will be fully developed. The man is rather a rough looking customer, but the female is just the reverse, being, perhaps, twenty-two years of age, very neat in dress, somewhat inclined to be handsome, and judging from her appearance, which is quite prepossessing, the last person who would engage in any such disreputable practices.

Sharp Practice.

It is quite probable that one of our benevolent leading jewelers has been pretty extensively victimized. A committee of gentlemen, purporting to represent a Methodist Church holding a festival, called at his store last week and secured the loan of several hundred dollars worth of silver ware wherewith to make proper display at the booths, promising to return the same unharmed after the affair was over. Upon making close inquiry the jeweler learns that the men were frauds, and that his silver ware was never taken to any festival, nor was any authorization ever given to obtain the loan. The police are working up the case, and we trust the sharpers will be brought to justice.

Chartiers Valley Railroad.

The Committee appointed to wait on our business men and manufacturers to solicit aid in behalf of the Chartiers Valley Railroad have issued the following card:

The undersigned Committee, appointed to solicit from you subscriptions to the capital stock of the Chartiers Valley Railroad Company, take this method of advising you of what has been done, and what is yet required to insure to completion of the road from Washington to Pittsburgh. Up to this time we have received from the citizens of Pittsburgh subscriptions to the amount of thirty-two thousand dollars, (a portion of which was included in the two hundred and ten thousand reported as having been subscribed by the people along the line of the road.) We yet require about seventy thousand dollars, and to make up this amount we want from you subscriptions of from five to twenty shares each. If one hundred firms will subscribe ten shares each, and one hundred firms five shares each, we will have the amount required.

Without attempting to reply to any of the communications in reference to the impracticable plan of connecting (through an 800 yard tunnel and over an expensive bridge) with the Connellsville and Allegheny Valley Roads, we hereby appeal to you to meet as promptly, and aid (by a small subscription,) the carrying out of the only feasible plan of securing a railroad connection with the rich valley we represent, and thereby secure to Pittsburgh, (at an early day) the trade which is now being diverted in another direction. We will continue to call upon you until all have had an opportunity to subscribe.

Fatal Accident.

An accident occurred at A. D. Smith & Bro's. stone quarry, in Mifflin township, on the Monongahela river, opposite Keesport, yesterday, resulting in the death of Christina Hunter, a little girl, between four and five years of age. Barney Boir was at work in the quarry, which is located at the top of the bluff, about two hundred feet above the river, and started a large stone down the hill, which unfortunately diverged from the regular course, a few feet from the starting point, and struck a tree which turned it still further from its course, and started it rolling toward the house of Mr. Hunter, which is situated about half way between the top of the bluff and the river, and some distance up the river from the stone quarry. As the stone was rolling in the direction of the house at almost lightning speed, and increasing its velocity with every revolution, the little girl emerged from the coal shed, which is about twenty feet from the house, and becoming alarmed at the descending stone, endeavored to reach the house in order to avoid danger. The man at the top of the hill seeing that she was only increasing the danger by going toward the house, called to her to go back, but she continued on her course and just reached the corner of the house in time to be caught by the descending stone, and crushed between it and the wall. She lived about half an hour after the accident, but was unconscious. Coroner Clawson was notified, and held an inquest on the body yesterday evening, when the jury returned a verdict of accidental death.

Sudden Death of a Citizen of Allegheny.

Yesterday afternoon the friends and acquaintances of Mr. Samuel M'Kain, one of the oldest and most widely known citizens of Allegheny, were startled by the announcement of his sudden death, the circumstances of which, as near as we could gather them, being as follows: It seems that Mr. M'Kain had been employed by Jonathan Gallagher, Esq., to clear off the rubbish from a tract of land in M'Clure township, known as Breed's Grove, of which he is the owner. He had been toiling pretty hard until late in the afternoon, when, feeling a little tired, he sat down on a log to rest, but had hardly got seated when he was seen to fall over by some persons in the vicinity, who immediately ran to the place but found life extinct. The cause of his sudden death is not known, as he was in his usual health in the morning, but it is supposed to have been an attack of heart disease, to which he was subject at intervals. He is at present lying at his late residence in the Second ward, Allegheny, where the Coroner will hold an inquest this morning.

A CHARACTER.

Changeless, but not of one dull monotone,
Ever the same, yet thou dost ever change;
Not harsh or strange
Thy modulations; he can well arrange,
Who holds possession of the opening key
And turns it readily—
He truly readeth thee and me.

Like a fair landscape in thy noble mind,
Whose features are the same by night and day:
Shadows may stray
Across its breadth; or gleams of sunshine play
First here, then there, till he who watches seems
In a fair land of dreams;
Yet the grand outline still remains defined.

Or like to some great work of Music's art
When leading thoughts pre-eminence sustain,
And all in vain.
Rich varying harmonies the soul enchain
Now subtly soft, then sharply clear and pure,
Still the main thoughts endure,
Returning homeward whence they made their start.

So in thy moods, through every seeming change
Flows a sustained perfect melody,
Whether it be
Joyful and bright, or moving solemnly;
There is a unity which reigns complete,
Calm, restful, perfect, sweet,
And all is as it must be, nothing strange!

—The Boston Museum is the oldest theatre in the Puritan headquarters, and has just closed it's twenty-fifth season.

—Ockford is said to be still actively preparing to shoot Niagara. He is now reviewing the scene of his coming suicide.

—E. A. Pollard seems to be the only editor who regularly furnishes his own sensation items. Such enterprise as his is unusual.

—Strawberries are selling for ten cents a quart in Erie. They are cheaper at every place in the country than they are in Pittsburgh.

—The Philadelphia Bulletin says that, considering his recent foul play, Hamill can hardly be considered an oar-nament to his profession.

—It is no longer fashionable to carry a folded handkerchief stiffened like a corpse, in the hand; handkerchief rings and flimsy handkerchiefs are now la mode.

—We see by our exchanges that Pittsburgh has succeeded in getting up a reputation for furnishing two or three suicides a day. This is a pleasant fame to deserve.

—A Japanese who has an income of $30,000,000 a year, is coming to Paris for a wife, and a Boston paper thinks it would be delightful to get him here and—tax him.

—Amazonians are becoming a reality and fable loses another little portion of its prestige. It seems that women soldiers are now to be found in both armies of the Great South American War.

—The principal Chinese encyclopedia is contained in about five thousand volumes. This is worse than the great German one which has been coming out for the last ninety years, and has only gotten to L now.

—A man named Skumbatz had a woman arrested the other day in Chicago for "frightening him terribly." The Judge admonished the young woman to be careful how she acted towards unprotected men hereafter.

—The University of Vermont has just turned out on the world seventeen spic-and-span new doctors. The world is fast being deluged with M. D.'s, D. D.'s L. L. D.'s, and the A. M.'s, and the A. M.'s are particularly plentiful.

—New Albany is puzzling itself over a mysterious marriage. A Baron, incog, and a beautiful and wealthy young Southern lady came to that town, were married, and went away again, and the New Albanyians want to know why?

—A Nantucket mathematician has calculated the amount of rain which fell on the island during the storm of week before last. He makes out the amount 50,228,680 hogsheads, 3 quarts, 1 pint, 2 gills and a fractional part of a gill. Mightn't there have been a thimbleful or two over.

—Enterprising St. Louis has a natatorium or swimming school; it is not as large as those in some other towns, but is still sufficiently so for enjoyment, the tank being sixty feet by forty. A place of this kind would be invaluable in Pittsburgh, as it would not only afford all ladies and gentlemen a safe opportunity to learn to swim, but would give to swimmars a pleasant chance to coolly enjoy themselves in the evenings after work. Wherever similar experiments have been tried they have paid their projectors very handsome dividends, as they are of the kind that is generally well appreciated by the people.

—A London correspondent, writing of a fashionable wedding, says he failed to discover a single dress-coat in the company, the groom, the "best man," and all the gentlemen friends appearing in dark, double-breasted frock-coats, light pants, black or colored neck-ties, and, with the exceptions of the groom, retaining their hats in their hands during the ceremony. The bridesmaids dressed in white, trimmed with blue, while the lady friends wore all kinds of elegant morning dresses. Gloves of every shade and color appeared on the hands of both ladies and gentlemen, while the latter all carried the button-hole bouquet, without which a London man of fashion would not be considered dressed.

—The preparations for the celebration of the 4th in Boston are very extensive, the ferry boats are to be run free, six places of amusement are to be thrown open to the children of the public schools with three exhibitions each, of magic; Swiss bell ringing or ventriloquism, the Boston Theatre is to be supplied with music, and open for the children to promenade and dance during the day, bells are to be rung, guns, fired, a grand parade of firemen and militia is to take place; three free concerts are to be given, all the public places are to be decorated, a rowing and a sailing regatta are to take place. Twenty kegs of powder will be exploded by means of electricity, throwing an immense body of water high in the air, A sub-marine race between divers will take place, Harry Leslie will walk a tight rope, a balloon ascension will take place, numerous fantastic paper balloons will be sent up, and in the evening a magnificent display of fire works will wind up the pleasures of the day.

Laying Rail-Tracks by Machinery.

(From the San Francisco Alta California, May 13.)

The railroad track-layer is an indubitable and decided success. It is now working along regularly at the rate of a mile a day, and it will do better when several small defects are remedied. Some of its work has been done at the rate of two miles in twelve hours, but one mile is considered its present working capacity. The contractor and directors of the Vallejo and Sacramento Railroad, although most of them were skeptical, and some quite dissatisfied about the delays in getting it into operation, give it the highest praise, and have made their arrangements in reliance upon it.

The machine is a car sixty feet long and ten feet wide. It has a small engine on board for handling the ties and rails. The ties are carried on a common freight car behind, and conveyed by an endless chain over the top of the machine, laid down in their places on the track, and when enough are laid a rail is put down on each side in a proper position, and spiked down. The track-layer then advances, and keeps on its work until the load of ties and rails is exhausted, when other car loads are brought. The machine is driven ahead by a locomotive, and the work is done so rapidly that sixty men are required to wait on it, but they do more work than twice as many could do by the old system, and the work is done quite as well. The chief contractor of the road gives it as his opinion that when the machine is improved by making a few changes in the method of handling rails and ties, the necessity of which changes is now apparent, it will be able to put down five or six miles per day unquestionably. This will render it possible to lay down track twelve times as fast as the usual rate by hand, and it will do the work at less expense.

Telegraphs.

Some interesting facts in the history of telegraphic communication are given by Herr Neumann in an official report recently published at Vienna. It appears from this report that a line of telegraph was opened between Persia and Russia by way of the Caucasus as early as 1859. Telegraphic communication between Europe and Northern Asia was also first established by the Russian Government, which laid down a line between Moscow and Omsk in 1862, and extended it to the Sea of Japan by way of Irkutsk and Kiacta in 1864. A Russian telegraphic agency exists at Pekin, through which messages are transmitted from the Atlantic to the Pacific Ocean. The line is now carried to Behring's Straits by Okhotsk. The total length of the European telegraphs is 53,340 geographical miles; of those in America, 14,239; of those in Asia, 4,736; of those in Australia, 1,842; of those in Africa, 1,504—exclusive of submarine lines. There are in all 1,200 telegraph stations, and the number of persons employed in them is about 28,000. The total weight of wires is calculated at 1,300,000 cwt., and there are about 7,500,000 telegraph posts, which it costs £200,000 a year to keep up. The capital expended in the construction of the various telegraphs is £16,500,000.

"A SHOEMAKER PHYSIOLOGIST" is contributing to the Shoe and Leather Reporter a series of papers on the proper treatment of that delicate and much abused organ, the human foot, by boot and shoe-makers. In his last paper he says: "There will still remain to be discovered a mode of covering the foot which will secure it to its natural freedom. What this will be, it is not easy just now, to tell. Possibly, it may take the peculiarity of the glove, and provide separate apartments for each of the toes, becoming thus a kind of a foot-glove, with a flexible sole, separated between the toes, and which will allow them to bend or spread, and the whole foot to lengthen or contract without hindrance, whenever occasion may require."

RATS—HOW TO FIX THEM.—Chloride of lime has frequently proved a sure thing to drive rats from any place infected by them. An exchange says: An ounce of it scattered in the place where they come to feed, or wrapped in muslin and put in their holes, where it acquires dampness, produces a gas that is not offensive to man, but is to rats. If chloride of lime is moistened with muriatic acid, and placed in a drain, vault or cellar, and closed from the air a little while, the rats will depart, because it will be death to remain. This is also a good disinfectant, and will, for a time, cure the effluvia of a dead rat. One application of chloride of lime to rat holes has driven them away for a year, when a renewal of it started them again.

NEW CROQUET.—A new style of croquet-set, by which the game is greatly simplified and improved, has just been patented. Only two colors are used in this patent, red and black, to represent the the sides—black on one side and red on the other; and the balls are striped in numerical order from one to eight, No. 1 in red, and every alternate ball in black, and so striped that their number can be ascertained at a glance. The players play in numerical order. The mallets are striped to correspond with the balls. The colors on the stake are nearly done away with. It is pronounced by all players of the game to be just the thing needed.

SECURITY AND COMFORT FOR THE TRAVELING COMMUNITY.
J. B. HARRIS' SAFETY FIRE JACKET,
Car Heater and Moderator,

For SMOKE AND HOT AIR FLUES, dispensing with the use of Stoves and Fires in or about the Passenger or Baggage Cars, with the attachment to graduate the heat to any temperature that may be desired without the possibility of firing the car or cars to which the Jacket may be attached.

Having obtained of the United States Letters Patent for a Safety Jacket which is warranted to resist the most intense heat that may be adplied to it in the position and purpose for which it is intended. It is a sure protection from accidents by fire, originating from defective flues, or where iron pipes are used as conductors for smoke or heat. It is applicable to all piping that may become overheated, and is warranted to give perfect satisfaction where wood or other combustible material may be placed in close proximity thereto. I am now ready to apply my invention to stores, dwellings, facteries, ships, steamboats, railroad cars, &c., wherever pipes as conductors are made dangerous by being overheated and security desised. I will sell, on application, rights to manufacture or to use the above invention; also, territorial rights, to such as may wish to engage in selling privileges, either by State or county.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, }
MONDAY, June 29, 1868. }

There are no new features in our markets worty of special notice, and while the demand for all of the leading commodities is light, prices generally have undergone no material change. Telegrams from Chicago report an excited Wheat market, and that an advance of 10 to 12c per bushel has been established. The advance, we presume, has been brought about by "short sellers" who sold what they did not have, and are now obliged to go on the market in order to fill their contracts. The excitement, therefore, is without any substantial cause, and the advance is not legitimate, and is not likely to be sustained longer than today and to-morrow, the two last days of the month. After that we look for Wheat to go lower than ever, as the indications for a heavy yield could not be better.

BUTTER—The market is quiet and unchanged; prime to choice fresh packed is still quoted at 25 to 27c.

EGGS—Dull with a supply fully up to the demand; dealers generally quote at 22c, though a good buyer might be able to buy at 21c.

Winter Wheat is still quoted at $11 to $11,50, and fancy brands at $14 to $15. Rye Flour is quoted at $9 per bbl.

RIVER NEWS.

The river continues to recede steadily at this point with about two feet in the channel by the Monongahela marks. The weather yesterday was cloudy and warm with indications at times of rain. As might be expected with only two feet of water business is well nigh suspended, and there is but little prospect at present of any immediate improvement.

The Julia No. 2 from Zanesville, arrived in excellent time having reached the wharf about seven o'clock on Sunday evening. She returns again to day at 4 p. m.

The Camelia it was expected would get off for St. Louis last evening.

The hearing of Capt. Donaldson, charged with shooting the negro Anderson comes off to-day.

The Ezra Porter—a Pittsburgh boat—is advertised for sale at Cincinnati.

The Emma No. 3 at last accounts was loading at Cincinnati for New Orleans.

—The steamer Clyde was sold on Monday last by the United States Marshal at New Orleans, to Spencer Field. It brought $2,600.

—The Nicholas Longworth is on the docks at Cincinnati. She will be remodeled and made about thirty-five feet longer and some twelve feet wider.

—The following steamers are lying at the Monongahela wharf: Camelia, Bayard, Grey Eagle, Belle Vernon, Kate Putnam, Armadillo, Kenton, Armenia, Kate Robinson and Messenger.

—We find this item floating around: "It is said that Captain John Adams and John Elliott, contemplate competing with Captain Davis in the Memphis and White river trade, and that the new line will be started about the 1st of August." To which may be added the fact that Captain John B. Davis proposes in retaliation to put a line of boats into the Arkansas. Opposition in the South is becoming as warm as it is in this section and farther North.

—General Humphrey Marshall proposes the building of a dam thirty-six feet high across the Ohio river at the foot of the falls at Louisville, whereby he would secure a magnificent water front at Louisville, give such additional depth to the canal as would make it adequate to all the business of the river, and create a water power unequalled in the world, while the dam, having a free roadway through it, would unite the cities around the falls and greatly benefit them all.

The Recorders of Deeds in the several counties of this Commonwealth are required, upon application and the payment of the usual fee, to record the discharges of all honorably discharged officers and soldiers, without the payment of any State tax.

A lively contest for the Republican nomination, in the Cleveland Congressional District of Ohio, is likely to result in the selection of either Mr. Upson, of Akron, or Mr. Osborn, of Painsville, unless Judge Spalding can be induced to reconsider his intention of withdrawal from the public service at the end of his present term.

The Cincinnati Chronicle states that Chase was first nominated as the Democratic candidate for the Presidency, by four very eminent Confederate Generals, dining at the house of a prominent Democrat of that city nearly two years since. They deemed it "the duty of the South, if she hoped ever to have peace again, not to join in a forlorn effort on the part of the Democracy, but select the least objectionable Republican, and make him their candidate."

The Democratic-Conservative movement to secure Chase's nomination at New York is very far from being dead yet. Sleeping for a few days, it awakes now with redoubled vigor. The Pendletonians would sneer and laugh the Chief Justice out of Court if they could, but that dodge answers only for the spectators in the lobby. "Old Greenbacks" is equally popular with the old Democratic politicians and with a rapidly swelling column of the rank and file, and his young rival is doomed to a back-seat.

The Democratic assertion that Schuyler Colfax once declared, in a political speech, that "he had registered a solemn oath never to vote for a foreign-born man for any office, and to remove all foreigners, aliens and Roman Catholics from office, whenever he might possess the power to do so," is the basest of slanders, made up out of the whole cloth. Mr. Colfax never made such a declaration, nor did he ever "register" such an oath. More than this, he has seven times been elected to Congress, the last time only two years since, in a district containing more foreigners than any other in Indiana, one of its counties (Lake) having a majority of foreign-born voters, and he has not only always run ahead of his ticket, but he has converted that particular county from Democracy into the banner Republican county of his district. In Clay township, in his own county of St. Joseph, where there is a majority of Catholic voters, he has often carried it when the rest of his ticket was lost by a two-thirds vote. Time and again, he has sustained Lange, Young, Mansfield and others, foreign-born, for State offices. These facts show how stupid and malignant is the falsehood, which we have quoted above from the Democratic journal giving it currency yesterday morning.

THE TAXATION OF BONDS.

A strong vote of the House, yesterday, (92 to 54) committed the popular branch of Congress in favor of the taxation of United States bonds, the proper Committee being instructed to report without delay a bill requiring the Treasury to levy an annual tax of ten per centum on the interest of the bonds, to be withheld in the payment of the coupons. In accordance with this instruction, such a bill will be reported and the House will undoubtedly pass it. There is as little doubt that it will be defeated in the Senate, from indications heretofore in that body.

A Wisconsin member offered this resolution, but it is substantially the same as that with which Messrs. Pike, Butler and Holman moved to amend the internal tax bill last week. A few only of the Eastern members favor the proposition, but it is very generally supported by those from the West, who are urgent that Congress should not adjourn without some further legislation on this subject, the merits of which may be very briefly stated as hinging in a great measure upon the simply legal question. The constitutional and legal right of Congress, to tax those securities in the mode proposed, is maintained on one side and denied on the other. It will remain an open and much vexed question until an authoritative judicial decision upon it shall be given. And nothing short of that will satisfy a very considerable minority of the people.

The legality of the proposed tax being assumed to be established, we apprehend that it would be found difficult to maintain the policy of continuing to exempt this description of property from sharing, in some sort, in the present support of the public burthens. Upon the expressed hypothesis, it shows an ignorance of the real tendency of the popular sentiment, or an indifference to its sincere and earnest demands, to insist upon the continuance of that exemption any longer. It is not surprising, therefore, that Representatives have assented to the wisdom of a prompt submission of the legal question to that decision which, in case the Senate should concur with the House, would be instantly sought for by the persons claiming to be aggrieved.

We doubt the legality of the proposed taxation. But it is not ours to decide that question. Nor is it a province which, under the circumstances, Congress will do wisely to assume, excluding all judicial appeals. As the case stands, we cannot but think that the House does well to meet the question as it has, and that the Senate should concur, immediately taking the matter out of the field of political discussion and partizan feeling, and remitting it to the safe and conclusive test of experience, with the courts open for the protection of such personal rights as may be found to be infringed upon. It is not to be denied that there exists in some sections of the country a very decided sentiment in favor of subjecting this description of property to taxation in that or some similar way, nor is it well to doubt the expediency of effecting, at the earliest moment, the only solution of the question which will satisfy all parties. The quicker and the more conclusively it shall be settled the better for all concerned—especially and most of all, for the public credit. And fortunately it is not a question which, as yet, has assumed a type so completely partizan as to preclude the assured confidence that the rights of the creditor, as well as of the Treasury, will be faithfully protected in the courts.

We hold faithfully to the Chicago platform in its preference for that mode of diminishing the burden of our debt, which looks rather to an improvement of credit, and the obtaining of money for the public needs at a lower rate of interest. There are good reasons for the belief that the present forms of the public debt can be so changed, with the assent of all parties, as to secure precisely that end, without presenting any legal difficulties or questions whatever. We believe it to be the imperative duty of Congress, therefore, to submit some proposition of that character to the public creditors. Let the action of the House, on yesterday, be supplemented, as it should be, with the offer of a new loan upon such terms as shall ensure the acceptance of the creditor, substituting his present securities therefor, and shall at the same time diminish the load upon the Treasury. Of the two alternatives thus legalized, there can be little doubt as to which would command the general approval, and in a few months all the difficulties of the financial situation would be effectively settled.

MONEY THAT IS NOT MONEY.

That the creation of what is known as the Legal Tender Currency was necessary to the prosecution of the war against the Slaveholders' Rebellion, we have never doubted. In that necessity was found the only excuse or justification of that currency which was entitled to even the slightest consideration; for that currency is so inherently vicious as to find apology only in a public emergency so peculiar and urgent as to admit of no other prompt alleviation.

In all civilized nations, mixed currencies are used to facilitate the transaction of business. These consist of bullion, specie and written or printed promises to pay definite sums of money. Paper currency is variously distinguished as bonds, drafts, notes or checks, and has come, in one or other of these forms, to be employed in the larger commercial and financial transactions in place of real money, because of its superior convenience.

An irredeemable paper currency, under the ordinary conditions of national existence, is a deception and fraud. Convertibility into coin, at the option of the holder, is the only admissible test of the value of paper promises to pay money. With gold ranging from 1.40 up to 2.80, the precise figures show the degree of the depreciation of the medium of circulation.

All true paper money is in the nature of a genuine bill of exchange, in that it represents property specially appropriated for its cancellation. The Legal Tenders are entirely deficient in this element, in that they do not represent the accumulations of productive industry, but the waste and destruction consequent upon the war. They do not symbolize what the nation has, but what it once had, but has no longer.

These are among the reasons for which we look with favor upon the bill which passed one of the Houses of Congress, some days ago, but which is likely to fail in the other, authorizing all contracts to be made payable in real money, and not in that which professes to be money, but is not. The objection felt at Washington to this bill is that it would measurably, if not wholly, supersede the Legal Tender act, by reducing all monetary engagements to the specie basis. On the contrary, in this tendency, we discover the meritorious element in the projected enactment.

In point of fact, all contracts are now and have been all along made upon the specie basis; that is to say, just in proportion as the circulating medium has been vitiated has gold increased in relative price. In all transactions of magnitude, definite calculations on this head have constantly been made, and payment exacted accordingly. The only exception to this rule is found in cases where bonds, mortgages, judgments or other securities were held at the beginning of the war, with long and fixed times to run. The holders could do nothing but take Legal Tender for contracts made on the gold basis and submit to the loss, which averaged more than one-half of their entire demands. Of course, the creditor classes, upon a return to specie payments, will obtain compensation to some degree for these losses; only the creditor classes that will be indemnified will not be identical with those that were victimized.

But the Legal Tender Act must be superseded some day, and may as well be now as at any future period, provided the supersession can be made permanent. So long as paper currency is used, the return to specie payments, or the maintenance thereof, is always a matter of faith on the part of the whole community. So long as the apprehension is general and definite, that bills can be converted into coin at the pleasure of the holders of them, comparatively few persons desire specie. But when a suspicion prevails that specie cannot be obtained upon demand, in exchange for bills, instantly arises an intense desire to draw the money, no matter if considerable inconvenience attends the custody and ultimate disbursement of it. This desire to realize real money is not a bare fancy, or the product of fickleness, but proceeds from the understanding that an irredeemable circulation is always, and of necessity, a depreciated circulation.

We are aware that eminent financial doctors contend that specie payments cannot be safely resumed—that is, resumed, with a fair probability of being maintained—until the nation shall have earned and accumulated an amount of property at least equal to that expended in carrying on the war. To this, we do not wholly consent. The coin existing in the country, and which is now essentially an article of merchandise, is not so greatly less than the whole bulk of Legal Tenders that the latter cannot be safely retired so as to bring it into common circulation. The fullness of the crops now harvesting renders this process much easier than it would be under other circumstances. The transition from fictitious values to real ones, for labor and all the products thereof, would now be comparatively easy because natural and healthy.

This process would be greatly helped by the existing curtailment of commercial credits, which furnishes a stable ground on which to erect a superstructure of confidence. Under the old system of long and excessive credits, few business men, in comparison to the whole number, knew how they stood; the elements of that problem were so entirely outside of themselves, and to be found in the condition of other parties, of whose stability they could indulge conjectures, but seldom made sound estimates. A man's ability to pay depended on the certainty and promptness with which he should be paid, and of that, on a pinch, he could predicate nothing. A general consciousness prevailed that the system was rotten and liable to fall down upon the heads of those who upheld it. Hence, when one considerable commercial firm or banking establishment failed, a wide-spread panic ensued. This was the spontaneous testimony rendered by business men, almost universally, to the inherent defects of the system of credits they tolerated. When such a panic once started, neither its extent nor the amount of mischief it would inflict could be computed in advance. It ordinarily resulted in cleaning out a whole crop of enterprising men, who had not sufficient capital at once to carry their stock of goods and to take up the business paper discounted on their accounts.

Matters are ordered better now. Business is not practically synonymous with speculation. Men are expected to exercise at least an ordinary degree of prudence in the conduct of their affairs, and not to trust everything to the chapter of accidents. This makes it safer to attempt a resumption of specie payments than it would have been under the old system. Doors do not stand wide open for distrust to enter. Business men have generally confidence in themselves, and consequently in each other. A trial will show resumption to be easier than mere theorists imagine.

"CONSERVATIVE" SOLDIERS.

The list of names of delegates to the "Conservative" Soldiers' Convention, which is to meet in New York on the day preceding the regular Democratic Convention, presents remarkable attractions to loyal men. Among the delegates to their Democratic side-show, we see named the following:

N. B. Forrest, General in the Rebel Army, and the butcher of Fort Pillow; B. H. Hill, General in the Rebel Army; John B. Gordon, General in the Rebel Army; Thomas L. Price, General in the Rebel Army; Z. B. Vance, non-fighting General in the rebel service; Wade Hampton, General in the Rebel Army; J. G. Barrett, rebel spy during the war; Robert Ould, rebel agent for the exchange of prisoners.

A dispatch to the Cincinnati Enquirer states that these men "will nominate General Hancock for President, and Thomas A. Hendricks, of Indiana, for Vice-President, and expect by this pressure in advance to dictate the Democratic nominations."

It is undoubtedly true that this ex-rebel element will largely influence the final nominations. There are abundant indications that the South will attend the gatherings at New York full of its old arrogance and bitterness, demanding to lead the Convention and threatening defeat if their clamor is not heeded. Should we wonder that the party, which Forrest, Barrett, Ould & Co. aspire to lead, desires the "buried issues" of the rebellion to be kept out of sight?

Albert Pike, in the Memphis Appeal, says of the Chase movement:

"We have heard that Catholic sailors, tired of fish and eggs, if they had eggs to eat during Lent, had a habit of fastening a ham to a line, letting it over the ship's side into the sea and drawing it up again, repeating the formula, "Down Gammon, up Salmon!"—after which they could eat it without needing absolution or doing penance. No other process, we think can make a Democrat out of Salmon P. Chase."

THE COURTS.

United States District Court—Judge McCandless.

District Attorney Carnahan filed a libel in the case of the United States vs. Seven thousand pounds of tobacco found in Mead township, Crawford county.

A libel was also filed against the distillery of Edward Lyon, of Lycoming county, together with the machinery and appurtenances, and six barrels of whisky. A monition was issued and made returnable on the 15th of July.

Judge McCandless delivered a decision in regard to the application of Theodore Straub and David Sankey, who asked to be decreed "first informers" in the case of the United States vs. The Distillery et. al. of John Deer, of Beaver county. The case was tried in 1865, and under the decree of the Court the parties received five hundred dollars as their portion of the proceeds of the sale of the distillery. They afterwards ascertained that they were entitled to one-half of the proceeds of the sale—about eight thousand dollars. They then endeavored to obtain a new decree, but the money had been paid over to the Government. The matter was argued some time since. Judge McCandless decided the matter had passed beyond the jurisdiction of the Court, by the previous decree. The Court could therefore only express the opinion that the said T. F. Staub was the "first informer," and entitled to a moiety of the forfeiture.

Quarter Sessions—Judge Stowe.

Court met at ten o'clock yesterday morning, and the following business was transacted:

THE O'NEILL RIOT CASE.

The examination of witnesses for the defense was commenced, and the following testimony heard:

Nicholas Fast, sworn—Reside about six miles above McKeesport; came down to McKeesport on the day of the riot with Matthew Plot; he had on a black coat and a cap; it was seven o'clock in the morning when we left Osceola.

Cross-examined—Left him at McKeesport; came down in the afternoon train.

Re-direct—Plot's reputation for peace is good.

Nicholas Walter, sworn—Reside at Colliersville, about eight miles from McKeesport; saw defendant Plot on the evening of the 30th of March last; he had on a black coat and a cap; his reputation for peace is good.

Dennis O'Conley was sworn and testified that he had heard consultations among the defendants previous to the disturbance

John Faulkner testified that he saw the procession, and they had no arms.

Michael Murphy testified that he was a coal digger, residing at Six Mile Ferry; was up to the road where the locomotive stopped; some of the men were sitting there; we went up to see some of Mr. O'Neill's men, who were working there; they were working for three cents per bushel; we thought this too small and wanted to get them to strike with us; went home after the conversation occurred between Mr. O'Neill and the men.

Cross-examined—Only knew one man in the crowd; his name was Mike Nevin.

Bernard Hoffman testified that the procession was formed at Six Mile Ferry, and had "walking sticks;" witness said he had a pick handle which he used as a walking stick; the entire procession did not stop anywhere on the road; a good many people joined in the procession going up; heard a part of the conversation between Mr. O'Neill and the men relative to going up to see his diggers; some of us were sitting on the bank of the run below reading a paper, and heard a gun snap; soon after this some parties up by the check house threw stones, and we left and went up the other side of the hill; don't know exactly who threw the stones, suppose one of them was a digger, as he had digger's clothes on.

Cross-examined—Do not know any of the defendants; saw a few men, about five or six, go up the hill; some of them came up after us; did not hear much cheering; a man whom they called Defore gave orders; I don't know what stopped the procession.

Baptiste Dottle, sworn—This witness a Frenchman, and his testimony was given through an interpreter. He testified that he was a miner and was at the works on the 30th of March; there were about eighty persons when they started from Six Mile Ferry; they had nothing but sticks, used to walk with; it was the gun that first halted the men; the man that was killed said in French to those around him that he would go home over the hill, instead of going back the way he came; the man who was killed had no stick in his hand.

Cross-examined—Did not see the man who was killed make a speech from a log, and did not see the men swing their clubs; they all went directly up the hill; I did not go up the hill myself.

Peter Grenet was sworn, and gave his testimony through an interpreter: he was a miner, and visited the scene of the riot; the men were not armed.

Robert Watson, sworn—Reside at Six Mile Ferry; was not at Pine Run on the day of the riot; saw the procession about seventy-five yards off; the men had no fire-arms; some of them had walking sticks.

Louis Zuge, sworn—Saw a man named Goche in the procession; it was the intention of some of the members to speak to Mr. O'Neil, not to fight him; knew none of the defendants; might have seen them there.

Mr. Kerr stated that some of the witnesses had been arrested for alleged participation in the riot.

Judge Stowe ordered that no witnesses would be allowed to leave the Court room during the progress of the trial.

Mrs. Lightfoot testified that Pryor, one of the defendants, had boarded with her for a number of years; his character for peace was good.

James McNeill was sworn and testified that he saw the procession at Six Mile Ferry; it left there about nine o'clock.

Henry Kramer testified that he was in the procession, and heard the conversation between O'Neill and the party; he went back after this.

Alexander Foster was sworn on the part of the Commonwealth, and testified that Pryor, one of the defendants, had the reputation of being a man who frequently got into difficulties.

Mr. O'Neill was re-called and stated it was about eight miles from Six Mile Ferry to his house, and nine miles from the Ferry to his works.

Hon. Thomas Marshall addressed the jury on behalf of the Commonwealth. It was a difficult matter to prove the participation of parties in a riot like this. It was a singular fact that none of the witnesses for the defense know a single person who participated in the riot.

The first warning Mr. O'Neill had of the transaction was the approach of two or three hundred armed men—armed with clubs. He had good reason to know that he was in danger; his property had been burned by parties in the same interest with those who came in procession. If, as was alleged by the defense, they wanted a committee to see Mr. O'Neill's men, why did they march up in rank and file; why not appoint their committee at Six Mile Ferry? There was evidence of a common purpose. The very fact that they obeyed the order of their leaders was evidence of this. Mobs were like infuriated beasts.

Before Mr. Marshall concluded the hour of three o'clock arrived and Court adjourned until nine o'clock this morning.

Three of the witnesses for the defence, Grenet, Hoffman and Dettle, were arrested by officer Dougherty, who had warrants for them, for participation in the riot, after they had given their testimony.

Common Pleas—Judge Mellon.

Wm. Griffin vs. N. H. M. Pollock. Action on a promissory note. Verdict for plaintiff in the sum of $164.20.

John Paisley vs. Daniel McPherson et al. Sci. fa. on mechanics' lien. Verdict for defendants.

Pearl Mill and Pearl Flour.

Our Nashville exchanges of the 21st inst., in noticing the current harvest of wheat and its unusually fine quality, record the first shipment for the season of several car loads to "Messrs. R. T. Kennedy & Brother Extensive Millers of Allegheny City, Penna." We learn upon enquiring of this enterprising firm, that their agents W. H. H. Umble and Mr. S. Kennedy are traveling through Tennessee and parts of Alabama, purchasing the best crops of wheat and at once filling the same in their own sacks, sent there for that purpose, and shipping it home by rail. The object of Messrs. Kennedy in this early search is to secure an ample supply for the whole season of the choicest qualities of grain, as it is their determination to have constantly on hand a stock equal to the largest local demand at least of a genuine "Pearl" flour, equal to the best brands in the United States, so that fastidious customers shall have no occasion or excuse for sending to St. Louis or Georgetown for flour of special excellencies. To make sure of this, Europe has been searched for the best bolting cloths, and there has been provided a new cleaning apparatus, which thoroughly scours and polishes the wheat before grinding. This process is the same that has enabled Messrs. Herr & Welch, of Georgetown, D. C., to make the highest grade of flour in the country. The wheat designed for the highest grade of the Pearl Mill is transported all the way from Tennessee and Alabama in the Company's own sacks, thus avoiding the mixture of qualities, which the use of elevators renders unavoidable. Samples of "May" wheat and "Boughton" wheat from Nashville, and "Amber" wheat from Alabama, taken from parcels received by Kennedy & Bro., can be examined at the office of the Gazette. Due notice of the date from which the very choicest quality of flour can be forwarded at the Pearl Mills, Allegheny, will be given. The community will owe it to the energy and successful efforts of this firm, that our bakers, housekeepers and family provision stores will no longer be obliged to send abroad for their supplies of an article so indispensable to every household as a perfectly pure article of flour. We acknowledge our own great obligation to the Pearl Mill for silencing all complaints on that subject at our own table.

Price 50 Cents Per Box.

A Warning to Counterfeiters, and a Caution to Purchasers.

No expense will be spared, no legal means of punishing fraud will be neglected, in the effort to prevent the counterfeiting of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. But scoundrelism, when its cunning and activity are stimulated by the hope of gain, is very ingenious and industrious. The men whose despicable business it is to simulate valuable proprietary medicines, and who substitute therefor dangerous or worthless preparations, are proverbially difficult to catch. Most of them have many aliases, and they flit from State to State with surprising agility, in the hope of evading the clutches of the law. The proprietors of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS are determined, if possible, to hunt them down. Traveling agents are employed for this purpose, and whenever an offender is detected he is prosecuted with the utmost rigor of the law. No amount of vigilance, however, can prevent the occasional introduction of imitations and counterfeits. The public are therefore CAUTIONED not to purchase any article purporting to be HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS which is not authenticated by the handsome government stamp specially engraved for the proprietors, and also by their superb new label with a beautiful vignette, representing the conflict between St. George and the Dragon, at the top, and a miniature note of hand, signed Hostetter & Smith, at the top.

N. B.—The genuine BITTERS are sold in BOTTLES ONLY. All persons who pretend to sell the article by the gallon or barrel, are imposters, and the stuff they offer is a worthless and probably poisonous counterfeit.

CURE OF FISTULA.

Dr. Keyser: I write to thank you for your kindness and scientific management of my disease, for which I called to consult you some time in January last. You will remember that I had a complication of diseases, which finally ended in a terrible fistula, which I had been advised to "let alone," on account of a harassing cough, which it was feared might fasten it on my lungs. I knew that the peculiar mode of treating diseases like mine was by a cutting operation, which, if successful at all, would naturally throw the disease upon the lungs or some other vital organ, on account of the suddenness of the cure and the immediate check to the discharge, which I believed was a salutary provision of nature to get rid of some morbid condition of the system. I feel perfectly satisfied that your method of treatment, purifying the system, and local applications to the fistulous part, must cure, if anything could, without cutting, which I find it did, and I am happy to report myself well in every particular, with sounder and better health than I have had for years. I would also add that the applications you made were almost painless, and have left me a new man, with all the energies and vigor of restored health.

Yours, gratefully, I—— C——.

Elect him, and the mockery of reconstruction would vanish, leaving not a wreck behind. FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATION.

POLICE NOTICE.

The imminent danger to life and property attending the firing of guns and pistols, and the explosion of fire crackers and fire works in our public streets on the Fourth of July, and the sad accidents which have annually resulted from this injudicious mode of celebrating our National Holiday, have induced a large number of our most influential citizens, including property owners, underwriters, and others deeply interested in the safety of property within our city precincts, to address me on the subject, requesting that I should enforce the City Ordinances prohibiting it. This it is unquestionably my duty to do, and I now hereby give notice that I will give it my ESPECIAL attention. All offenders against the law will therefore be rigidly prosecuted, and the fines and penalties imposed, IN EVERY CASE, without regard to person.

On the premises is a pump of lasting and excellent water, and the surface of the lots is level and needs neither filling nor grading to prepare them for building purposes, and being in a section of the city where property is increasing very rapidly in value, make them desirable for an investment, especially as the present houses rent for enough to pay a good interest on the sum asked for the whole property. Call soon on the undersigned and secure a cheap, safe and paying investment.

This property being located near the line of the railroad, within one hour's ride of the city, makes it very desirable for gardening or a dairy farm; it is also a good and beautiful location for country homes near the city, lying immediately on the river, on the opposite side from the railroad. The West Newton Accommodation and other trains on the railroad afford certain and frequent opportunities of daily communication to and from the city. Will be sold as a whole or in lots of one acre or more, to suit purchasers

It is well watered and underlaid with coal and limestone, and is convenient to churches, schools, stores, mills and blacksmith shops. A real good bargain is offered in this excellent farm; and with it will be sold all the personal property on the premises, consisting of horses, cows, stock cattle, hogs and poultry, harness, gears, wagon, plows, farming implements and household and kitchen furniture. Together will be sold very low and on easy terms, to a responsible purchaser.

Gold was weak and dull to-day at 140⅛ to 140, with a decided downward tendency. At the close 140¼ was made a nominal price to keep up the market to sell on. Most of the large holders of bonds cut off their coupons in advance, and disposed of them on the expectation of seeing lower quotations made after July first. The import of merchandize keep up to the old standard of about five millions a week, but the export have likewise increased, and it is doubtful whether the exports of gold will be quite so heavy as was anticipated. Up to the action of the Democratic nomination for President, and the action the convention will take on the currency and bond question, the premium of gold will favor the bears, after that a rise can only be expected from the recommadation to issue more currency, redeem bonds on greenbacks, and take currency in payment of import duties. Few people who have any knowledge of the true financial condition of the country, and its resources are made enough to believe in any such probabilities.

Government bonds were firmer to-day, with a light business; few persons avail themselves of the privilege of exchanging their Seven Thirties, and prefer to wait till the first of August. Many persons are under the impression that the interest on Seven Thirties will be paid to July 16, and bonds exchanged even with coupons from July first, thereby gaining sixteen days interest.

The stock market is less firm to-day, only some few clique stocks are kept up, particularly is this the case with North Western common and preferred.

Express stocks are lower. Mining shares are very firm and slightly better. Border State bonds are dull, and have declined about 2 per cent.

Business dull and money scarce, especially is this the case with bank circulation, and banks and bankers are bringing out funds from the east.

A gread deal of inquiry is made for Columbia oil stocks, but no sellers can be found, some holders already dream of the good old price of one hundred dollars per share.

ALLEGHENY CATTLE MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
MONDAY, June 29, 1868.

CATTLE.

There was again a pretty full supply of cattle on sale to-day, and notwithstanding there was a very fair attendance of buyers, the market was a very tame one, and stock of all kinds changed hands slowly. As a general thing the quality of the stock was not very good, the great proportion of the offerings being thin and rough steers and cows and heifers; drovers genreally reported a decline of from ¼ to ½ compared with last week, on good cattle and more than that on common and inferior. There were several eastern buyers in attendance, and while they bought several small bunches, they would have taken a good many more if they could have persuaded holders to seil at their prices; the eastern markets have been dull and unsettled for some weeks past, and this causes parties who are buying with a view to shipping to operate with great caution, and as we have already intimated, they have good reason for so doing.

The cattle on sale to day were from the following states; Pennsylvania, Ohio Indiana, and Illinois; the number of Pennsylvania cattle coming for several weeks past has been unusually large and increasing, mainly from Butler, Washington, Lawrence, Beaver, and Green Counties. During the winter and spring, the great proportion of the cattle in this market came from Chicago, three-fourths at least; now, however, but a small proportion co from that point, and from this time out t number is likely to diminish as drovers c buy for the same money much nea home.

As will be seen by reference to sales few very choice fat steers sold a 8¼ to 8 though, really, 8 to 8¼ may be regarded the ruling price for prime fat butch cattle. There was some inqury for go stock steers at 5 to 5½. The reported sa were as follows;

Holmes Lafferty & Glass, sold 35 head good to extra Illinois steers at 7 to 8½; head of Illinois cows and heifers at 5 to 6 21 head of mixed Ohio stock at 5¼ to 6½, head fairish Indiana cattle at 6½ to 7, and 60 head left over.

Hedges & Taylor, sold 56 head of go Illinois steers for Scott at an average of 7 18 head common Ohio cows and heifers, Neorle at an average of 5,25; 17 head of fa ish Illinois steers for Davis at an average 7⅛.

James Hanlin sold 29 head of Washin ton County steers, cows and heifers at 5 to 8⅜.

Myers & Needy, wholesaled 34 head good Ohio steers for W Root at 7,25; 40 he of fair to extra Ohio steers at 6,75 to 8,75; head left over.

Haas & Kraus, retailed 38 head Chica steers at 6½ to 8½.

Stakely & Bro., had 17 head of Butler C stock; bulls sold at 4½; balance at 6 to 6

L Rothchilds reports retailing 22 Chica steers at 7 to 8.

Hartman & Crum, sold 22 head of Kno County Ohio steers for Boyd at 5,80 to 6,75

Verner & Co., sold 19 head for Holm Lafferty & Co., at 6 to 7½.

McMillan & Kerr, had 13 head of fairis Washington Co. steers, which they though ought to average 6,25,

Jas McAllester, sold 21 head Wester Reserve stock for Thrasher at 5 to 6½; head same kind and from same place f Thayer, at 5 to 6½; and 10 head stock stee at 5½.

Lobman & Zeigler, sold 9 head Washin ton Co. steers and heifers at 5 25 to 6,75.

Marks & Traurman 57 head of fair extra Chicago steers at 6½ to 8,25.

Hazlewood & Blackstock 18 head of prim to extra Chicago steers at 7⅝ to 8¼, and 1 head Belmont Co. Ohio steers for C. Sh maker at 7 to 8.

Greenwald & Kahn report having sold 5 head of Chicago steers at 6 to 8½.

L. & J. Shamberg report 34 head of Ohi steers at 6½ to 8¼.

Nicholas Carr, assisted ably by J. Ke win, sold 36 head Belmont county Ohi stock, on commission, at 5¼ to 6¾.

Johnathan Davis sold 22 head of ligh Tuscarawas county stock for Yost, at to 6½.

McPherson had a bunch of Washingto county stock, which he held at 8c, but u to the time we left he yards he had no been able to sell.

McCaslin sold 9 head of very mean Lawrence county stock at 4½ to 5½.

SHEEP AND LAMBS.

The supply of Sheep and Lambs on sal to-day was not as large as it was last week although fully up to the demand, nevertheless. Prime fat Sheep, such as first class butchers generally buy, sold without much difficulty at full prices, whil common and inferior grades were ver dull, and, if anything, lower. As will b seen by reference to sales, prime butcher Sheep sold at 5 to 5½c, and extra at 6c, al though there were but very few sold at th outside figure. Lambs ranged from $2,5 to $3,50 per head, according to quality and condition. The reported sales were aa follows:

W. Adams sold 107 head of prime to extra Allegheny county weathers at 5 to 6 per pound.

Stakely & Bro. sold 111 head $2,25 t $3,50 per head for Sheep, and $1,50 to $2,5 per head for Lambs.

Adam Eckert reports having sold 54 head Lambs at $1,75 to $3 per head.

Wm. Fowler sold 145 head of Ohio and Penna Sheep and hambs at $1,50 to $3,50 per head for the former, and $2 to $3 for the latter.

J. Emmell reports having sold 160 head of Lawrence county Sheep at $1,75 to $ per head.

Kaufman sold 29 head of very common Washington county Sheep at $2 per head.

McKain wholesaled 85 head to "Billy" Hines at $2 per head.

J. Rynn 103 head Lawrence county Sheep at $1,75 to $3,50 per head.

Jas. Shaw 95 head Lawrence Co. Sheep and Lambs at $1,50 to $4,50 per head.

Seymour sold 60 head of common Sheep, at an average of $2,50 per head.

HOGS.

There is next to nothing doing in this class of stock at these yards, and this we may add, is usually the case at this season of the year. During the hot weather people generally buy more mutton and beef and less pork, and this accounts for the very large falling off in the demand for Hogs. We continue to quote in a retail way at 8½ to 10½c for light to prime heavy averages.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBUGH GAZETTE,
MONDAY, June 29, 1868.

CRUDE—The Crude market was in a very sensitive and unsettled condition to-day, and while the sales were considerably larger than for some days past, it may not be out of place to state that the great proportion of it was taken by one purchaser. The party referred to bought two lots of six thousand barrels each, buyer's option, all the year, in tank, at 15c, and this, we believe, is the first sale effected for that particular delivery this year at 15. When we state that all of the oil above noted was taken by a single purchaser we do not intend to convey the impression that there are no other buyers; what we do mean is that thus far there are no other buyers at that price. We can also report a sale of 5,000 bbls, 1,000 each from August to December, at 13c, delivered on cars or in boats at Oil City, seller's option; also, two lots, one of 300, and the other of 400 bbls, on spot, at 13c, here. A telegram from Oil City reports as follows: Market quiet and dull—nothing doing. On creek, holders asking $4,80, with no buyers; here, holders asking $5,15, without buyeas.

REFINED—The market for bonded oil was remarkably quiet to-day, and, notwithstanding there is a firmer feeling in Crude, refined was no better than on Saturday. There were but two sales reported, 500 bbls, on spot, at 30½c, and 500, same delivery, at 30¾c. We heard of an offer to sell the last half of July at 30½c. July to December may be quoted at 32¾c, and August to December at 33c.

'ARM, GARDEN AND HOUSEHOLD.

Hay Making.

t is known by almost every farmer that ch good grass is lost by the slip-shod y that it is made into hay. A radical re- m is needed in this line of farming. Let try to get that nice bright green hay that ells so sweet. We generally have that d ourselves, if the weather gives us half hance.

t is known to the farmer that all grass l clover has a certain quantity of gum, ;ar, &c., which are lost when allowed to ach, or in other words, washed away by rain. But as long as the grass is fresh rain will have no effect, owing to the x or gum which still covers the whole getable matter. It is when the hay is ut half made that danger comes in this e, and often the whole crop, is injured continually turning. In showery weath- we say never turn more than is really cessary, better let it lay a little, for as g as the grass is fresh looking re is but little danger from the s of the elements which make good hay. e have found that the quicker hay can be de, the less it loses that bright, rich co- , and is much less liable to spoil when in stack or bay. Hay as a general thing is much dried. Unless the grass be very ck and heavy, it will generally cure suf- ently when exposed in the swath for two ys. When shook or stirred out, should t remain in this condition beyond the first y, or it will thus lose much of its nutri- e juices. Yet we have cut our grass in forenoon and hauled it in the barn late the afternoon, and never had sweeter y than when cured in this way. We ver put our hay in cocks unless it threat- s rain. The talk of salting and liming y we have never found necessary.

The time we prefer for cutting clover is en it is in full bloom, just before it be- ns to become brown, after it lays about m two to five hours we put it in small cks, and there let it cure, thus cured, it eps its color, and in handling, the leaves all saved, and not scorched and black- ed up like tea from the scorching effects our June and July sun.

The other grasses we cut just as the seeds beginning to get hard, and we often find it when cut just as going out of flower it the stock relish it better. Yet we pre- to cut it when the seed begins to harden. gives more muscle matter, but less fatten- matter.—Cor. Penna. Farm Journal.

Curculio.

Experiments made by Benj. D. Walsh, ting State Entomologist of Illinois, have l to the conclusion that there are two dis- ct broods of the plum curculio every ar, the first of which comes out in the etle state in the latitude of Rock Island, m about July 19th to August 4th, and second from August 23d to September th. The first brood is generated by fe- les that have passed the winter in the etle state, and have attacked the early it, laying in the more matured fruit the g from which proceeds the second brood. e second brood of beetles come out late the same season, and the females, at all ents, if not the males, live through the nter, and repeat in the succeeding season process detailed above. Thus it ll be seen at once the curculio differs m the apple worm or Codling moth— ich is also double brooded—in this, that e former passes the winter in the perfect te, and the latter in the larva and pupa tes. The practical inference to be drawn m this discovery is, that by destroying June or early in July the first wormy it that produced the first brood, the crop curculios for the current year is dimin- ed. We would urge upon fruit growers e importance of testing an antidote re- mmended by Col. Anderson, President of e Horticultural Society. The President ted that he had read, not long since, that e application, by means of syringes or rinklers, of water and vinegar, in the oportion of one part of the latter to nine the former, had been tried in France with eat success, and that he had since tried it egg plants and other vegetables with ppy results; not an insect of any kind d injured the plants since. Whether or t it would have the same effect on the rculio he was unable to say, but thought worth the trial.

issatisfaction of the Boys With Farming.

Among the reasons for dissatisfaction with rm life, is the fact that parents fail to inter- t their sons in the farm and its surround- gs. Young people often wish to have ings look well about the buildings with a ug little flower garden, &c. But if they tempt to put things to right they are called f to the potato field in a manner that indi- tes that attention to these home matters is waste of time, and that time spent about ese improvements is fooled away.

Is it strange that we get tired of drilling corn, all the season? And when the roduce is all sold in the fall, what share or terest have we in the proceeds? When the e boys visit the city or village with empty ckets, and see what other boys have, is it wonder that they determine to leave the rm as soon as possible?

When the farmers will endeavor to en- urage their sons by giving them personal terest in their business as co-partners, or herwise, as merchants do their faithful erks, and allow them the occasional use horse and carriage, and some spending oney, I think they will have less occasion mourn over the uneasiness of the boys, d will find their sons more willing to re- ain upon the old homestead, and cheer eir declining age. Adopt this course and ere will be less idlers in our cities and d villages.—Cor. N. E. Farmer.

What is a Hay-Tedder.

The hay-tedder is a hay-shaker worked y horse power, and affording (like so any of the modern farm implements) a omfortable spring seat for the man who perates it. It has a revolving reel, armed ith fingers of spring steel, which tosses the ay—from the swaath or behind the mow- g machine—in such a manner as to air it nd dry it much more rapidly than it can e done by the old way. Old farmers who ave tried it say they would sooner part ith their mowing machines than with eir hay-tedders. By the aid of both and f the horse hay-rake grass may be cut at ine o'clock, after the dew is off, and be put the barn in good condition by four in the fternoon on any fine day. In settled dry eather it is well to cut the grass just before ight, and to shake it out in the morning nd keep it moving all the forenoon. After inner it may be hauled in in time to allow he team to be used to cut again for the next ay.

Green Manuring.

There are several plants which are avail- ble for green manuring, of which the com- on or red clover seems best adapted to our limate. It soon reaches its growth, has a arge amount of leaves and stems, and its oots are large and fibrous, and run very eep. Rye also forms a very good crop for green manuring, but requires more time han clover, is more expensive, and derives more of its substance from the soil.

In Europe, buckwheat, vorage, rape, vetch and turnips are used for that purpose. Johnson writes, "That in no other way can the same crop convey to the soil an equal amount of enriching matter as in the leaves and stem."

One great advantage of green manuring is that these vegetable substances, when turned under, decompose rapidly, and soon benefit the crop. Another is, that grain manured in this manner never falls to the ground through weakness of the straw, but no matter how heavy the head it retains its erect position.

But we must not attribute all the benefit derived, to the leaves and stalks, for the roots in some cases contain as much bulk and nourishment as the leaves and stalks. It has been estimated that the weight of the roots left in the soil by a sod four years old was equal to one-twentieth more than the weight of the grass grown the fourth year.

Washing the Stems of Fruit Trees.

The bark of fruit trees lives for several years. In the apple we do not know exactly, but we believe about six. Annually a new bark is formed next the wood, and consequently the outside bark of a six-year old tree was formed six years before. After six years (about this) the bark dies and forms what is called rough bark, and this rough or dead bark remains on many years, getting thicker and thicker from the under side, with each year's accumulations.

Writers on tree-washes make no distinction between the different stages—hence apparent contradictions are common, which the reader cannot reconcile. For instance, a correspondent of the Canada Farmer says he nearly ruined his orchard by washing the trees with soapsuds as strong as he could make it, and putting on about half a pailful to the tree, and a neighbor killed his trees entirely by putting soap grease upon them to keep sheep from gnawing the bark.

This was, no doubt, put on young, smooth, live bark, which it would no doubt injure. He who had recommended it had no doubt tried it on old trees with rough bark, to which it would be a benefit.

Measuring Boxes and Barrels.

A barrel contains 10,752 cubic inches. A box 24 inches long by 16 inches wide and 29 inches deep, that is on the inside, will hold just a barrel.

A half barrel—Make a box for this 24 inches by 18 and 14 inches deep. This will contain 6,376 cubic inches, or just half a barrel.

A bushel—This has 2,150 2-10 cubic inches. A bushel box will be 16 8-10 inches square and 8 inches deep.

A half bushel—A box 12 inches long by 11 2-10 inches wide and 8 inches deep will hold half a bushel.

A peck—A box 8 inches by 8 4-20 inches square and 8 inches deep is a peck.

A half peck—Is 8 by 8 inches square and 4 2-10 inches deep, or 298 2-10 cubic inches.

A half gallon—This contains 134 4-10 cubic inches. A box 7 by 4 inches and 4 8-10 inches deep has just that quantity.

A quart—4 by 4 inches square and 4 2-10 inches deep.

QUINCES.—The quince seems to flourish best on a rather stiff, moist soil, in somewhat sheltered locations. We have often seen trees or bushes loaded with fruit, growing beside brooks or around small ponds. We know of no reason why the cultivation of this fruit should be neglected; for there is always ready sale for it. The plants are easily grown from cuttings, and soon come into a bearing state. They may be planted six feet apart in the row, with rows ten feet apart. The trees are quite long lived, and usually healthy and hardy. The worst enemy to the quince is the borer, the same plan may be adopted for the destruction of the borers in the quince as in the apple. Fruit growers having a soil suitable for this fruit should certainly devote time and space to its cultivation; for at the prices for which it has been selling, no fruit will pay a better profit.—Am. Jour. Hort.

FRENCH METHOD OF RAISING TOMATOES.—As soon as a cluster of flowers is visible, the stem is topped down to the cluster, so that the flowers terminate the stem. The effect is, that the sap is immediately impelled into the two buds next below the cluster, which soon push strongly and produce another of flowers each. When these are visible, the branch to which they belong is also topped down to their level; and this is done successfully. By this means the plants become stout dwarf bushes, not above eighteen inches high. In order to prevent their falling over, sticks or strings are stretchen horizontally along the rows, so as to keep the plants erect. In addition to this, all the laterals have no flowers, and after the fifth topping, all laterals, whatsoever, are nipped off. In this way the ripe sap is directed into the fruit, which acquires a beanty, size, and excellence, unattained by other means.

TOADS FOR GARDENS.—A correspondent of the Lamoille News Dealer says he successfully defends his vine patch by laying boards between the rows, in such a manner as to afford shelter to toads in the day time, and leave it undisturbed, so that they will make their home under it, which they will do in great numbers. At night they sally out and devour every bug, and grow fat as aldermen. He says he has a dozen or more of these little philanthropists making their home under a single board not more than six feet long.

TO DESTROY INSECTS ON FRUIT TREES.—A writer to the London Journal of Horticulture says that either common alcohol or methylic alcohol (wood spirit,) as a wash, will destroy the wooly aphis and other insects on fruit trees more effectually than soft soap, sulphur wash, or any other compound generally used for that purpose.

CURE FOR FOUNDERED HORSES.—Take a lump of alum the size of a walnut, powder it and dissolve in warm water. The horse must be drenched in this liquor and it will throw him into a profuse perspiration, and he will soon be as well as ever, it should be done as soon as you ascertain his condition.

THE State Guard says: We have never witnessed an equal amount of interest shown in a State Fair, to that already exhibited for the fair to be held in the suburbs of Harrisburg, in September next.

Most Bitters of the present day that are loudly puffed through the newspapers as having great curative properties are vile compounds and base impositions, containing no medicinal virtues whatever, and are really very poor whisky beverages, and, instead of acting as a stimulant and tonic, have a tendency to weaken the stomach by entirely destroying the coating. The public should therefore be very cautious and purchase none but Roback's Stomach Bitters, which have stood the test as a remedial agent for many years, and are really as their name indicates, a stomach bitters and not a beverage. They combine the properties of the best tonic and a stimulant—a laxative, an efficient and anti-bilious agent and the best stomachic known to the world, and when taken in conjunction with Roback's Blood Pills, are the safest and surest preventive against all bilious derangements, thoroughly regulating the whole system and giving tone to the digestive organs.

They are highly recommended as an invigorating tonic to mothers while nursing, increasing the flow of milk, and for convalescents, to restore the prostration which always follows long-continued sickness, they are unsurpassed. No household should consider themselves safe from the ordinary maladies without these invaluable medicines. They can be obtained of any druggist. TTSF

MEDICAL.

A GREAT CURE OF ASTHMA.

I feel myself under obligations to you, as well as a duty I owe to others who have been like sufferers with myself, in order that they may know where they can get cured. I had been subject to violent, continued attacks of ASTHMA for more than six years, and had been to great expense and to various medical men of experience without obtaining any permanent relief, or relieved at all. I was so bad that I never knew what it was to be free from the disease. I had to sit up in bed every night for weeks and weeks, without any prospect or hope of cure. My condition was such that I felt life a burthen, and when I got an attack I felt in danger of suffocating every moment. So terrible had been my suffering that my mother says that she has seen me so near suffocation that I was nearly black in the face from the desperate efforts made to get breath. In the cold winter nights, many a night, with the doors and windows of the house thrown wide open, in order to hinder the apparent danger of strangulation. In this condition, on the 13th of October, 1866, having heard of DR. KEYSER'S skill in curing this disease, I called on him, in company with my husband, Joseph Meyers, but I must confess with a great deal of doubt as to effecting a permanent cure. DR. KEYSER examined me carefully, and my lungs all over, with his LUNG SOUND, and told me that with care I would get well. I persevered with his medicines for over a year, and am to-day in vigorous health, and totally FREE FROM THE ASTHMA, and its terribly disagreeable attendants. I have had, once in a while, a slight attack of the disease, but I regard my health as entirely re-established, and if I do have any attack, a few doses of the Doctor's medicine immediately relieves it. I cannot feel too thankful for the exemption from a disease which used to cost me whole weeks and months of loss of sleep, besides suffering which none but those who are subject to this disease can fully appreciate or describe.

NANCY MEYERS,
MARY MOUNT JOY, (her mother,)
GEORGIANA FISHER.
Birmingham, Dec. 9, 1867.

The case of Mrs. Meyers, recited above, is one of more thon ordinary importance, because of the violence of the attacks, their continued length, and the great prostration of all the vital powers attending the disease. Any one who knew her during the time she was a sufferer from the disease of which she was cured, and will look at her now, the very picture of robust health, cannot but admit that the cure is one of more than ordinary character, inasmuch as we hear of Asthma every day of our lives, being a disease of an incurable nature. Let those who doubt investigate for themselves.

DR. KEYSER'S RESIDENT CONSULTING OFFICE FOR LUNG EXAMINATIONS AND THE TREATMENT OF OBSTINATE CHRONIC DISEASES, No. 120 PENN STREET, from 9 A. M. until 4 P. M.

Deafness, Hard Hearing, Discharges from the Ear, Polypus of the Ear, Catarrh, Ozena, Blind Eyes, Inflamed Eyes, and every species of Sore Eyes and Ears successfully Treated by Dr. Keyser, No. 120 Penn Street.

SIGHT RESTORED.

The case to which we alluded some weeks ago, of Christiana Fisher, of Beaver county, is now entirely confirmed by the appearance of Miss Fisher herself, who to-day called on DR. KEYSER in person, to thank him for his kindness and skill in restoring her to ENTIRE AND PERFECT SIGHT. Miss Fisher has been nearly blind for four months. She was so blind that she could not distinguish any object so as to make out what it was. The case is remarkable, as hundreds of cases like her's are doomed to never-ending darkness, on the flimsy pretext that there is no cure, and nothing can be done. She was under DR. KEYSER'S treatment for two months, and before she applied to him, through her brother, Simon P. Fisher, slight hopes were entertained of her ever getting her sight. Her case is well known in the neighborhood where she resides, and has been regarded as one of extraordinary recovery. We, the undersigned, know of the cure of Miss Fisher, and bear willing testimony to the fact above stated.

September 18th, 1867.

The case above referred to was entirely cured by medicines to purify the blood, and it is witnessed by scores of persons who have known Miss Fisher, and have a knowledge of her total restoration to health and the recovery of her sight, as the accompanying letter of her brother sets forth:

DR. KEYSER—This is the list of names that I have to your advertisement of the cure of my sister, Christiana Fisher. They were all willing to put their names down, and were very much astonished to see that you brought her sight so soon. My mother sends her thanks to you; she says "you are one of the greatest men in the world." She says if we had not come across you she believes her child would not be living at this time. We all join in sending our love and respects to you.

PULMONARY CONSUMPTION, RESULTING FROM PLEURISY, CURED.

Statement of GEORGE FORD, carpenter, of No. 16 Sampson street, Allegheny City:

I took a violent attack of pleurisy, in May, 1866, which left me with a cough lasting all summer, wearing away my strength and gradually undermining my health. During this attack of pleurisy I had several physicians of the highest reputation in the city. After I had partially recovered from the pleurisy, I was advised to go into the country, which I did, and when there I called in a doctor, who told me my left lung was affected, and that if something were not done soon I would die of CONSUMPTION. I lingered on from this time until about the middle of June, my cough and lung disease gradually growing worse, and I weaker every day, and almost despairing of ever getting well. In this state of despondency, and knowing the general belief of the incurability of Consumption, and having heard of cures made by DR. KEYSER, and seeing his advertisement in the newspapers, I was induced in October last to call on the Doctor at his office, 120 Penn street, and had him examine my lungs with his "LUNG SOUND." He told me the upper lobe of my left lung was very much diseased, but he thought with great care and the perseverance in the use of his medicine, I would get well. At the time I called on Dr. Keyser my pulse was over one hundred and thirty beats in a minute, and I was generally prostrated, and had to cough night and day. I commenced the Doctor's treatment in October, with a feeble, broken constitution, and continued it faithfully until the present time. The Doctor's medicines helped me from the very start, and I could gradually feel myself getting stronger, and my cough and expectoration lessening. I have gained greatly in flesh, and consider myself well; all the rattling of my lung has ceased, and my general health is in every way good. All my relatives and friends know of the advanced stage of my disease and my extraordinary recovery. One of the medicines given me by DR. KEYSER was a medicine called LUNG CURE, which I took in connection with the other treatment.

GEORGE FORD.

PITTSBURGH, March 30, 1868.

ANOTHER CURE OF CONSUMPTION.

Statement of John G. Wigham, of Turtle Creek, Allegheny county:

I was discharged from the United States army in January, 1866, on account of a wound in the head, from a shell, and a disease which the army physicians pronounced CONSUMPTION. I had a terrible cough, and fell away in strength and flesh, and was unable to do anything. Shortly after my return from the army, I made application to a physician of my neighborhood, and afterwards to another in Pittsburgh of high reputation, whose remedies I used faithfully for five months, without any benefit whatever, but rather grew worse, and wasted in flesh and strength every day. In August, 1866, my mother took me to DR. KEYSER, of 120 Penn street, whose skill in such cases like mine had been highly spoken of, and put myself under his treatment. The Doctor examined my lungs very carefully with his LUNG SOUND, and told me that my left lung was badly diseased at the upper part, but if I was careful he thought he could cure me by following his directions closely, which I did from that day to this. I gradually improved under DR. KEYSER'S medicines from the first week I commenced to take them, and my general health has improved, and my chest, where it was sunken away, and where it pained me, has become full and strong and free from pain. I can now do a full day's work, and take great pleasure in giving my testimony in favor of DR. KEYSER'S treatment and medicines.

An eloquent and impressive panegyric on the late Rev. V. Lewis was pronounced on Sunday last, in the East Common, Allegheny, First Methodist Church, by Rev. Dr. Reeves. There was a large audience present, and the sermon was listened to with marked attention.

Assault and Battery.—Philip Steinagel made information yesterday before Alderman Mullen, charging James Walsh with assault and battery. He alleges that the defendant threw a stone and struck him on the eye and bruised his face. At the hearing Walsh was committed in default of $500 bail.

Looking Glass Dispute.—Peter Yost, proprietor of a barber shop on Smithfield street, between Fifth and Virgin alley, was arrested yesterday on a charge of larceny by bailee, preterred against him by A. J. Bailie, who alleges that the defendant retains possession of a looking glass belonging to him, valued at nine dollars. A hearing will be had in the case this morning.

Alleged Larceny.—Ann Richards made information before Alderman Thomas, yesterday, charging Mrs. Maddox with the larceny of a shawl of the value of six dollars, six and a half yards of calico, seventy-five cents, and three and a half vards of muslin, thirty-seven cents. Strawberry Festival.—The managers of the ladies fair and festival, held in Lafayette Hall for the benefit of the Ross street M. E. Church, have been induced to continue it one week longer. A nice dish of ice cream or juicy strawberries is certainly very refreshing during this extremely warm weather, and in this instance the pleasure of the feast is enhanced by the knowledge that a worthy cause is being helped along.

Insane Man.—Yesterday morning an insane man, named J. K. Moore, fell in a fit in front of the Allegheny Market House. He was picked up and taken to the Mayor's office, where he soon recovered. It was ascertained that he had a brother residing in Walton, Delaware county, N. Y., to whom the Mayor sent a telegraph dispatch, informing him of the condition of his relative. No answer as yet has been received, and the Mayor very properly retains the man in custody until something is heard from his friends.

Larceny by Bailee.—Mary Blair made information against William Lloyd before Alderman McMasters, charging him with larceny by bailee. The prosecutrix alleges that she sold out her interest in a saloon on the corner of Craig and Lacock streets, Allegheny, to the defendant. At the time of the sale there was an ale pump in the cellar, valued at one hundred and seventy dollars, which she claims was not included in the effects, but which the defendant still retains in his possession, refusing to give it up. A hearing will be had to-day.

Cross Suits.

James Langin made information yesterday, before Alderman Taylor, against Jane Murphy for assault and battery. He exhibited a rather ugly looking cut on the forehead, which, he alleged, was the effect of a blow struck by Jane with an oyster can. On the other hand, Jane asserted that James assaulted her first, without provocation, and she accordingly made a charge against him to that effect. At the hearing James was committed for trial in default of bail, and Jane having secured the desired amount was allowed to go free.

Seduction.

On the 18th of May last Alderman Mullen issued a warrant for the arrest of a resident of Temperanceville, charged on oath of a young woman of the Second ward, Allegheny, with seduction, under promise of marriage. The information alleges that the offense was committed on the 27th of September, 1867, the prosecutrix then being under twenty-one years of age. The accused kept himself clear of the officers until Sunday, June 21st, when he was arrested and had a final hearing on the 24th, at which, in default of one thousand dollars bail, he was committed to answer the charge at Court.

Carncross & Dixey's Minstrels.

The minstrels (we say the minstrels, bebause the troupe now performing at the Opera House are among the very few that deserve the name,) were greeted with an audience last night which must have fully satisfied them of their immense popularity in this section at least. And then the performance. Time and space would both fail us in attempting to give an account of the inimitable burlesques and side-splitting drollery of these favored sons of Noemo, who kept the audience in a roar of laughter throughout the evening. The entertainment will be continued this evening and through the week, however, and thus all may avail themselves of the opportunity to hear these universal favorites. Remember the place. Opera House, Fifth street. Every evening this week.

REPORTS OF RAILROAD COMMITTEE.

Mr. Ogden, from the Special Committee on Railroads, submitted the following reports and accompanying resolution:

Gentlemen: The undersigned members of the Committee on Railroads, to which was referred the petition of the citizens residing on Liberty street, in reference to the running of cars upon said street by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, and asking for an abatement of the nuisance occasioned thereby, would respectfully report, That they held several meetings, after notice to the parties complaining, and to the officers of said company; that a large number of citizens attended said meetings, and the Railroad Company was represented by the Solicitor, Mr. Hampton; that a petition numerously signed by business men, doing business in other parts of the city, was also presented to the Committee, asking that the tracks should be removed from said street; that after hearing all the parties who desired to be heard, and after full consideration of the petitions presented, your Committee is of the opinion that it is not within the power of Councils to direct the removal of the tracks; that Councils have the right to prescribe any reasonable regulations in reference to the running of cars; that Councils have already prescribed regulations as to the speed of cars and kind of fuel which shall be used; that said company have violated the ordinance by using coal, by running at a greater rate of speed than that prescribed, and by unnecessarily stopping upon the streets; that in the opinion of the Committee a compliance with the ordinance would very greatly abate the nuisances and remove the cause of complaint, and we therefore recommend that Councils direct the Mayor to see that the ordinances are strictly enforced.

In view of the very general expression made by our merchants who are specially interested in the matter, we would further recommend that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company be requested, as soon as practicable, to remove the tracks from Liberty street and make other provision for the delivery of city freight.

Resolved, That the Mayor is hereby requested to enforce all the ordinances in reference to the running of railroad cars within the city limits.

Mr. Gallaher moved, as a substitute for the resolution, that the report be recommitted and the Committee be instructed to prepare an ordinance prohibiting the use of locomotives on Liberty street.

A lengthy discussion ensued on the subject, after which the substitute was ruled out of order and a vote taken upon the resolution and report of the Committee. The report was received and the resolution adopted.

Mr. Ogden submitted the following from the same Committee:

Gentlemen: The undersigned members of the Railroad Committee, to which was referred the petition of citizens in reference to the violations of city ordinances by the Allegheny Valley Railroad Company, would respectfully report: That having given notice to the parties interested and having heard all persons who desired to be heard, they are of the opinion that upon some occasions the provisions of the ordinance in reference to the moving of cars have been violated. As we have already recommended in our report in reference to the Pennsylvania Railroad, that the Mayor be instructed to enforce all the ordinances in reference to the moving of cars within the city limits, we do not think any special action is required in this case.

The report was received.

SEWER ORDINANCES.

The Chair presented an ordinance providing for the construction of a sewer on Miltenberger street, from St. Patricks alley to Locust street.

On motion the rules were suspended and the ordinance passed finally.

The ordinance passed to a second reading, and, on motion of Mr. Phillips, was laid over under the rules.

DAMAGE BY HAY WAGON.

The Chair read the following communication from the City Attorney, which was submitted by the Finance Committee with their report:

To the Finance Committee:—

I herewith return to you the communication of F. Lutz, in reference to damage done by the upsetting of a hay wagon on Diamond street.

After consultation with the Street Commissioner, I am satisfied that he did all in his power to keep the street clean, and that the accident must have been occasioned by carelessness on the part of the driver. It cannot be expected that the city will clear away all the ice that accumulates in the streets, and when the officers have done all in their power to keep the street passable, the city is not responsible for accidents.

The communication was received and the report adopted.

REPORT OF THE DISTRICTING COMMITTEE.

Mr. Jones, Chairman of the Committee appointed to re-district the city, submitted the following report:

GENTLEMEN: Your Committee on re-districting the city into wards would respectfully report that after holding repeated meetings and giving the matter close and careful attention, they would submit the accompanying plan showing the proposed lines of the new wards, together with an ordinance defining the boundaries of said wards. Your Committee is well aware af the difficulty attending their labors, knowing that associations have endeared the old ward lines and boundaries to the inhabitants of our city, and anything tending to set them aside will cause unpleasantness and dissatisfaction and temporary disarrangement in ward organizations, but your Committee believe that the plan that they herewith submit is the best for the future of the city, which is rapidly increasing in population, and that the severing of old organizations cannot be consummated at a better time than the present. They would, therefore, ask the adoption by Councils of the plan and the passage of the ordinance.

The report was accepted.

Mr. McEwen, from the Districting Committee, submitted the following Minority report:

GENTLEMEN:—In differing from the conclusion arrived at by a majority of your Committee, the undersigned are deeply impressed with the importance of the subject and regret exceedingly their inability to agree with their colleagues in the formation of the plan of the city about to be subdivided. for your consideration.

The changes proposed are so radical, particularly in the lines of the old ten wards of the city, that they destroy, to a very great extent, the social, local and political relations that have so long existed among the people, whose wishes and interests should always form the basis of legislation, without affording any compensatory advantages, and are entirely uncalled for by considerations of public interest. We would, therefore, recommend that no material change be made in the ward lines of the old city.

With regard to new districts, there is no question but that new lines will have to be drawn and new wards formed, but these lines should be made as far as practicable to the satisfaction of the people who have to live within them, which, in many instances, is not the case in the plan offered by the majority of this Committee.

The proposed lines that have given dissatisfaction are so numerous, and the injustice of many of them so obvious, that we do not deem it necessary within the limits of this report to go into a detailed statement of them, but leave them to be stated in the Council Chambers by the members from the districts themselves.

In conclusion, gentlemen, we ask you to give this important matter your careful attention, satisfied that you will do nothing that will work injustice to any portion of the citizens of Pittsburgh. Whilst we protest against the adoption of the plan of the city now before you.

JAMES MCEWEN.
JAMES HEMPHILL,
DAVID MCCLELLAD,
JOSEPH CASKEY,
S. J. WAINWRIGHT.

The report was accepted.

Mr. Jones presented the ordinance fixing the boundaries of the wards as proposed by the Committee which provides that there shall be twenty-four wards, and describes the boundaries of the same.

When Mr. Jones had proceeded to the discription of the Fifteenth ward, Mr. McClintock moved that when Councils adjonrned it be to meet on Tuesday (to-day) at two o'clock.

The motion was ruled out of order, and the member continued to read the ordinance.

The motion to lay on the table was lost.

The question then recurred on the motion of Mr. Brown, to adopt the lines of the old wards.

After considerable discussion Mr. Gross moved as an amendment that the lines of the ten wards be allowed to remain as they are, and that each precinct be considered a ward.

Mr. Brown accepted the amendment.

The motion of Mr. Brown as amended was adopted.

Mr. Gross moved that that portion of Pitt township south of the Greensburg turnpike be added to the First ward, Lawrenceville. Adopted.

Also, that all that portion of Pitt township north of the Railroad constitute a ward, and that the remaining portion of Pitt township constitute a ward, and that Oakland township remain as it is. Adopted.

Mr. Gross then moved that the ordinance as amended, so far as the lines were concerned, be adopted. The resolution was adopted, and the ordinance read three times and passed finally.

The Committee then renumbered the wards, making twenty-three instead of twenty-four wards, as at first proposed in the report.

On motion, the rules were suspended and the ordinance, as amended, including numbers, was read three times and passed. Not reached in Common Council.

To Our Patrons.

But few of you have any adequate conception of the vast amount of medical labor performed by us.

In this, a most healthful city, several hundred physicians are daily employed, yet our own physical abilities are taxed almost beyond endurance to satisfy the demands for our professional services.

On our books of record are the names of more than sixty thousand (60,000) persons who have obtained medical advice and attention.

Among this vast number many cures of the worst maladies have been perfected without the patients having been seen or visited.

Over five hundred and fifty (550) cases were treated by us during the last month alone, among which a number of cures of the following diseases may be mentioned, viz: Incipient Consumption, Liver Complaint, Scrofula, Dropsy, Kidney Affections, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Heart Disease, and many Female Complaints, Nervous Disorders, &c., &c.

We treated all those Chronic Diseases upon the most scientific principles of Urino-Pathology and Electicism.

We are able to detect the most obscure diseases by ocular, chemical or microscopic examination of the urine, and to prescribe the remedies in accordance with the conditions discovered—hence the cures.

Some of the patients treated during the last month live hundreds of miles away. Some reside in New York, some in Philadelphia, many in Eastern Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and West Virginia.

Many of these forwarded specimens of urine by express, and had the necessary medicines sent them by the same conveyance.

This is the cheapest and best way.

The charge for examinations, prescriptions, and medicines furnished, range from three to ten dollars.

We will now have the constant assistance of Thomas L. Oldshue, M. D., who has been educated for the profession under our own direction, and graduated at the Philadelphia University of Medicine and Surgery. But for this assistance we would no longer be able to attend the constantly increasing practice that is daily crowding upon us.

Respectfully, L. OLDSHUE,
